RE: Financial Analyst

Dear Hiring Manager:

As a passionate, business-minded professional, I aim to gain valuable expertise at Canada's leading home improvement specialty retailer while being part of a unique work culture that focuses on growth and continuous improvement.

As a CPA Candidate, I offer experience in tax preparation, risk assessment, accounting, and auditing. As Tax Preparer Specialist at a leading accounting firm, I completed numerous Canadian personal and corporate tax returns within strict deadlines while identifying tax planning opportunities. Leveraging strong analytical skills, I conducted thorough research on handling complex tax issues in order to formulate value-added solutions.

Here are a few career specifics:

- Saved $2,000 on accounting fees. Provided assurance on internal controls and recommendations for further improvement based on conducting monthly merchandise inspections and inventory audits.
- Ensured smooth business operations through cash flow management, budgeting, bookkeeping records maintenance, and profitability growth through price adjustments of store items.
- Performed risk assessments, supporting Audit Team to complete special projects and identify gaps. Used critical problem-solving skills to adjust several business accounts and ensure compliance.

Throughout my experience, I developed collaborative working relationships with my team members to achieve audit and risk-related objectives. I value teamwork, leadership, and accountability.

If you believe that the Home Depot's Finance team would benefit from a forward-thinking professional with excellent organizational skills and a solid work ethic, then let's discuss how I could meet your organizational goals. I am flexible to travel and can start immediately. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Charles Walston
